IMPACT REPORT

SPRING 2021

$20,000 SCHOLARSHIP

With a fondness for Boulder and the Boulder Valley School District, Earl and Barbara Bolton named Impact on Education in their will, leaving 70% of their estate to create a scholarship for deserving BVSD graduates.

Shannon Blanco (above) is the inaugural winner of this new $5,000 scholarship and plans to study biomechanical engineering at CU Boulder. Her scholarship is renewable for up to four years, potentially funding $20,000 of her college education.

"Earl and Barbara Bolton were inspiring individuals who strove to uplift and support others, and I can't be thankful enough to them for creating this scholarship and supporting me in college."

VOLUNTEER SPOTLIGHT

For Chris Snedeker (below), serving his community is about engaging with people on a personal level and paying it forward. BVSD & Impact on Education have been ever-present entities in his life as his kids wound their way through the school system. The challenges and great people on that path always impressed him, so it was easy to say yes to a request for help distributing food to BVSD student families. What he found with each delivery was someone who smiled at him and said thanks with an evident depth of gratitude.

"I'm having fun and thankful for the opportunity to engage with members of our community."
